A Legacy of Artistic Excellence

Bill Bernico, a man with an insatiable passion for art, spent a lifetime amassing this extraordinary collection. His discerning eye and unwavering commitment to showcasing American talent have resulted in a body of work that is both comprehensive and breathtaking. From the vibrant canvases of abstract expressionists to the intricate sculptures of modernists, the Cooper Collection 292 encompasses a broad spectrum of artistic styles and movements.

Luminaries of the Art World

Among the many artistic luminaries featured in the collection are Jackson Pollock, Mark Rothko, and Willem de Kooning, whose works exemplify the groundbreaking spirit of abstract expressionism. The collection also boasts masterpieces by Andy Warhol, Roy Lichtenstein, and Jasper Johns, pioneers of the pop art movement that revolutionized the art world in the 1960s.

Beyond Painting: Embracing Diverse Media

While painting forms the core of the Cooper Collection 292, Bernico's discerning taste extends far beyond the canvas. The collection encompasses a wide range of media, including sculpture, photography, and works on paper. Notable pieces include sculptures by Alexander Calder and Louise Bourgeois, as well as photographs by Diane Arbus and Robert Mapplethorpe.
