About Natalie Coughlin

Natalie Coughlin is an American swimmer who has won 12 Olympic medals, including 6 golds. She is a world record holder in the 100-meter backstroke and the 4x100-meter medley relay. Coughlin is also a New York Times best-selling author and motivational speaker.

Coughlin was born in Vallejo, California, on August 23, 1982. She began swimming at the age of 6, and by the time she was 10, she was competing in national competitions. Coughlin attended the University of California, Berkeley, where she was a three-time NCAA champion. She graduated from Berkeley in 2004 with a degree in psychology.

Coughlin made her Olympic debut at the 2004 Athens Games, where she won two gold medals, one silver medal, and one bronze medal. She followed up her success in Athens with another strong performance at the 2008 Beijing Games, where she won three gold medals and one silver medal.

Coughlin retired from competitive swimming after the 2012 London Games. She has since written two books, Golden Girl: A Swim Through Life and Swim to Success: The Natalie Coughlin Way. She also works as a motivational speaker and runs a swimwear line.
